About This Game

You wake up in a tent in a dark forest. Where are you? Why are you here? What are these strange lights that seem to show you the way? You discover notes. Diary entries from the past. Are you searching for someone? Then all of a sudden you stand in front of a dark tunnel entrance. You overcome the strong urge to run away ... and enter ...

Lost in the Rift - Reborn is an exploration-type game that sends you on a journey to face your fears and uncover the gruesome past. An intense trip that certainly isn't for the faint-hearted.

Lost in the Rift had been initially developed as one of the very first VR horror games, following the success of its predecessor Alone in the Rift.

With Lost in the Rift - Reborn the game has received a complete overhaul, many additional features and is now also finally available for the HTC Vive and Vive controllers.

To ensure the best experience, it is highly recommended to play this game using headphones and while standing.

lost in the rift - reborn

Great experience. I was felt uneasy throughout the entire game.. Very interesting game. It's about 30 minutes long with intense atmosphere and good jump scares.

Check out youtube video here --> <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mffSBaT7bQs>. Maybe I missed something, but I didn't find this game to be scary at all. In fact, I found it to be downright boring. I wore headphones and turned the sound up but still, nothing really here. A few mundane sounds are not enough to make me jump. Walking and walking and walking and walking and nothing.

I spent 30 mins walking around and eventually got lost in a supply closet. Forced myself to backtrack and then gave up. Uneventful. If this scares you, you need to get out more.. I know it's only a few quid but it was just so boring I had to refund, basically a walk in the dark simulator, with some eerie sound effects. Got bored and quitted.. I've got the key for exit B, But can't advance from the woman with the knife. I've also seen the girl who warns you. The game then takes me back to the office & i'm stuck in this loop, one step away from the end.

Some help from the producers on this!. Maybe I missed something, but I didn't find this game to be scary at all. In fact, I found it to be downright boring. Good, scary.. Not bad, the end sequence and end was great. Took me 42 minutes to complete using the rift and touch. Well done 7/10.. best VR horror game i've played yet! had a great scenes and atmosphere. kinda sad tho.... cause this is the first Horror VR I played and none have been as great. (if the creators of this game are reading this I would love another! top notch!) worth the price even if it's just to send your parents and friends threw it and watch their reactions. truly priceless!. best VR horror game i've played yet! had a great scenes and atmosphere. kinda sad tho.... cause this is the first Horror VR I played and none have been as great. WOW, Lost In The Rift - Reborn is probably the most scary VR horror experience so far! Check out my first 25 minutes of gameplay in VR and MIXED REALITY view as well, you have to see this and try it!

"Lost In The Rift - Reborn" was released on Steam today and this is a full HTC Vive roomscale experience with motion control tracking, free Vive trackpad movement and very good graphics and sound effects. The VR immersion and presence inside of Lost In The Rift is truly amazing, as you walk freely around in dark woods, pitch black corridors, basements and varied terrifying sceneries trying to survive.

You are experiencing an environment full of strange things happening, while you explore the terrible fate of a young girl missing, called Anna Surley. My Last In The Rift - Reborn HTC Vive gameplay video covers the first 20-30 minutes of the storyline (without spoiling the story actually) and I hope you will get a taste of what this VR Horror Experience is about!

So why do I think about this game? Well I love it already only playing it about an hour into the story. It gives me chills, goosbumps and Im scared almost instantly so I can promise you real VR horror in this title, with both jump scares but also a very scary and uncomfortably dark surroundings - you are afraid and terrified for every step you take!

Graphics is great, the sound effects are just perfect, the storyline seems intresting and the gameplay is exactly what I was expecting. And dont forget: Its a free movement game, so you can actually walk freely around without teleporting - what a surprise!

Great work made by the developers, big thanks for letting us play this refreshing VR horror game!

I will update this review later on when I have completed the game, or when more content gets added. But for now, Im recommending it to all of you guys that have a HTC Vive. Both thumbs up!. Just played the game for the first time and it was an amazing horror experience. I didn't finish the game.. while playing I was trying to find excuses to quit it, like "I'm too tired now, I'll continue tomorrow"..The honest truth is that this game was scaring the hell out of me. Could it be that for just 4.99 EUR, I bought the scariest VR game currently available? Don't miss this.. Amazing horror adventure that keeps you on edge.. Very jumpy and intense especially when left with only a lighter for light.. It's been very hard for me to decide if this game is worth recommending.

You know that moment in a horror movie when you're watching the main character go into some dark, scary room where you just KNOW the monster/killer is hiding? You know how you want to scream at them, "don't go in there, you moron!" This game will make you feel like that, but you are the moron going into that stupidly scary dark place.

This game is undoubtedly a scary experience, and my first one of such in VR. I will not praise it on its game design in general, but in the context of VR, it does what it sets out to do.

Playing it in VR is scary, and quite unnerving, however, this is not because the game itself is particularly scary or well-made. Rather, VR does the scaring. If you ripped the game out of VR, the best you would get is one or two cheap jump scares and a rather boring maze crawl.

That being said, playing this will put you on edge. It will scare you. You will quit like a little ♥♥♥♥♥ the first time you have to walk through a door. The jumpscars I mentioned do exist, but the way the developer crafted this game, within the context of VR, makes them the least frightening part. There is an absolutely frightening atmosphere of sounds and experiences throughout that will cause you to have the feeling of "why am I here; I should not be here". The sense of being in this place is what is truly scary.

I recommend this with the following notes. Having played it, I would not pay more than $5.00 for it. For the price, it works and is scary. Get this game if you want to experience the new baseline in horror games. This not-that-well-made game, is scarier than every single horror game I've ever played on a monitor. Get this game if you want to scare the♥♥♥♥♥out of your friends.
